It should be mentioned that on the day he tendered his resignation he proceeded to the Ming Tombs at Nanking to offer sacrifices to the departed Emperors, and to inform their spirits that the usurping Manchu Dynasty had been overthrown

*' From henceforth'' writes Father D'Elia, '' he was regarded as the 'Father of the Chinese Republic/ *'